Special Abilities

Sen has the following powers only when his twin brother So is in the arena.

Mirror move

May choose to use either your action or your twin's action each turn. This is done after action cards are revealed. Note: You may not leap or do other special moves unless your previous actions allow this to occur.

Sacrifice

One twin can sacrifice themselves and lose 2 points (-2 score) to allow the other twin to use (add) their move or attack action. The twin must decide in what order they occur BEFORE action cards are revealed.

Self-Sacrifice

One twin can sacrifice themselves and lose 4 points (-4 score) to allow the other twin to use (add) their move or attack action. The twin decides in what order they occur AFTER action cards are revealed.

Notes:

Sen and So tend to attack and move in alternate actions with each other. This gives them the power to choose between a move and attack action each turn. They also prefer to have multiple space attack weapons, such as Nunchaku.

Background:

Sen is the "white twin" of the Sen So Arena. He is known for his good nature and friendly demeanor. Sen has black hair and will always be seen wearing white. He is right handed and will typically wear the Sen So Yin-Yang on his right arm.

He went to a famous school to learn his martial arts. Sen was extremely dedicated to his learning, and after much effort, he graduated with honors.

Sen is best known for his unbroken winning streak in team tournaments, where he will always be with his twin brother So. They earned great sums of money with their tournament wins and started the Sen So school and arena in their local town.

Sen's closest friend is Fasuta. They met in school and are almost always seen together.

Sen also convinced both Waniki and Kantinu to leave the school they came from and to teach at the Sen So school.

Sen - "I do not fully understand my brother So, but I do love him. He has found ways to connect our minds and taught me. We compliment each other in battle in a way that I can not explain to others. Together we are quite formidable.

So has always learned so easily. He remains strong without practice or effort. I must admit it angers me sometimes to see how easily he can do what I struggle so hard to accomplish. "
